Scope and Content Note

The first installment of the Mont Pèlerin Society records held at the Hoover Institution Archives was received in 1981 and described in a preliminary inventory that is now superseded by the present register.

Those initial records consisted mainly of Albert Hunold's correspondence, which now constitutes the bulk of the

Correspondence series, and of his files relating to the general and regional meetings he organized as secretary of the society from 1948 to 1960, which are to be found in the Meetings File series and which also includes material relating to subsequent meetings up to 1990. It should be noted that the correspondence for the first meeting in 1947 also contains important letters dating back to 1945 regarding the founding of the Society.

The remainder of Albert Hunold's papers received in 1981 can be found in the Office File series, particularly the circulars and minutes of meetings. Also included are issues of The Mont Pèlerin Quarterly, edited by Hunold, and his 1962 writing "How the Mont Pèlerin Society Lost Its Soul," which gives his perspective on the so-called "Hunold Affair."

Later, in 1987, the Hoover Archives received the papers of several treasurers of the society, which can be found in the Treasurers' File series. Here too, the correspondence of these officers is particularly noteworthy, as is the correspondence with foundations, especially the Relm Foundation, regarding travel and other grants for members of the Society. Financial records and other materials relating to the meetings, however, were added to the Meetings File series.

The records in the smaller Newsletter File series, received in 1995, are also interesting, especially for the correspondence of Eric Brodin, one of the editors of The Mont Pèlerin Society Newsletter.

Finally, the collection includes a large amount of photographs, film strips, and sound tape reels, mostly relating to the Society's meetings.

Researchers interested in the activities of the society should also consult the Friedrich A. von Hayek papers at the Hoover Archives, particularly its series on the Mont Pèlerin Society in boxes 71-89, as well as the papers of several other prominent members such as John Davenport, Milton Friedman, Gottfried Haberler, F. A. Harper, Fritz Machlup, G. Warren Nutter, Karl Popper, and Gordon Tullock.

Also available for consultation in the reading room of the Hoover Archives is the excellent book by R. M. Hartwell, A History of the Mont Pèlerin Society (1995).

Additional records of the Mont Pèlerin Society were received by the archives in 2011 from Edwin J. Feulner, the treasurer of the Mont Pèlerin Society. The 2011 Incremental Materials series covers aspects of the Society's activities from 1974 to 2001, particularly meetings, membership, fellowships and awards. The papers are in roughly chronological order.

The 2013 Incremental Materials series covers the activities of the Mont Pèlerin Society from 1976 to 2012 and include institutional financial records, meetings, conference materials, membership information, the F. A. Hayek Essay Competition materials, various newsletters, and institutional correspondence.

Part 5

Unidentified French speaker; a woman speaking on the Cuban situation towards communism; an unidentified German speaker, and following English translation, on outlawing political parties; an unidentified English speaker on outlawing political parties; an unidentified German speaker, and following English translation, on implications of the industrial revolution; an unidentified English speaker on the difference between the Socialist and Communist parties in America; an unidentified speaker with a Mexican accent; an unidentified English speaker on the previous day's issues; and an unidentified English speaker on Communism in Sweden.

Part 6

The majority is a discussion chaired by Ludwig von Mises about the welfare state. There are many speakers, most unidentified, including Mises and F. A. Hayek. Before this session on the tape, Mises talks on the uselessness of outlawing communist parties in fighting communism.

Part 7

Description is currently unavailable.

Part 8

Description is currently unavailable.

Part 9

For the majority of this recording, Hayek discusses traditional liberalism. He identifies its past and how it relates to contemporary thought and trends. The overreaching theme of his talk, as he mentions at the beginning, is to analyze these things so that liberals can present their views without referring to the classical champions of the philosophy and increase the popularity of liberalism.

Part 10

Hayek excerpt, unidentified German speaker, discussion of administrative issues.

Box 60

Mont Pèlerin Society meeting at Princeton, New Jersey, 1958 September 8-13*Access

Use copy reference number: 81123_a_0003834

Scope and Contents note*Part 1

1958 September 8, P.M. session. Opening greeting by Professor F. A. Hayek and Princeton Professor Gardner Patterson. Addresses by Ludwig von Mises, "Liberty and Property," Pierre Goodrich, Felix Morley, "Meaning of Freedom."

Part 2

1958 September 9, A.M. session. Discussions on the welfare state, following papers by W. Hagenbuch (Cambridge, England) and W. Röpke (Geneva).

F. A. Hayek concentrates on compulsory insurance and the government as provider as compared to private providers.

Mr. Andrews also speaks on healthcare.

Ludwig von Mises speaks about the political consequences of the welfare state. He begins by recounting the origin and semantics of the term "welfare state." He then concentrates on how the interests of individual members of a legislature is not the welfare of the nation, but the welfare of its constituents. He believes the system of interventionist government leads to inflation being the only way out.

Jasper Crane compares the welfare state to cancer. Professor Hutt continues this analogy and also offers tactics on how to argue against the welfare state.

Part 3

1958 September 9, P.M. session. More discussions on the welfare state. The speakers are Felix Morley, including his analysis of James Madison; L. Baudin; Salvadori, who defines liberty as an economic system currently called capitalism and argues capitalism is a child of security; and Pfister.

Part 4

1958 September 10, A.M. session. Professor Milton Friedman, Mr. Sheffield, Professor F. A. Hayek, W. H. Hutt, and Henry Hazlitt.

Part 5

1958 September 10, noon session. Various speakers give their thoughts on inflation and monetary policy. The speakers are Eugenio Gudin (Brazil); Dr. Romulo Ferrero (Lima, Peru); Leonard E. Read (New York, U.S.A.); and Jacques Rueff (Paris-Luxembourg - English translation).

Part 6

1958 September 10, P.M. session. Volkmar Muthesius (Frankfurt, Germany - English translation), Milton Friedman (Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A.), C. Iversen (Copenhagen, Denmark), and Graham Hutton (London, England).

Part 7

1958 September 11, A.M. session. This session concerns labor unions, their influence on inflation, employee choice, labor history of the 20th century, and other related matters. The featured speakers are T. Wilson (Oxford, England), S. Petro (New York, U.S.A.), Goetz Brifs (Washington, D.C., U.S.A.), Jacques Rueff (Paris, France - English translation), S. W. Alexander (London, England), and Ludwig von Mises.

Part 8

Likely a continuation of the 1958 September 11, A.M. session. Speakers include Ludwig von Mises and Crawford H. Greenwalt, Pres of E. I. DuPont de Nemours Company.

Part 9

1958 September 11, P.M. session. This session focuses on agricultural economics. The speakers are W. H. Hutt (Capetown, South Africa), James C. Ingebretsen (California, U.S.A.), W. Hagenbuch (England), E. Bieri (Zurich, Switzerland), G. Briefs (U.S.A.), T. Wilson (England), S. Petro (U.S.A.), and L. Baudin (Paris, France - English translation).

Part 10

~~1958 September 12, A.M. session. W. M. Curtis (U.S.A.), Antony G. A. Fisher (England), H. Nychaus (Bonn, Germany), E. Gudin (Brazil), and Bruno Leoni (Italy).~~
